1. Between 2 and 5 October 1954, the Lustzendorf Kaserne (8502), the Tannenberg Kaserne (8503) and the Flak Kaserne (8501) in Weimar were occupied to capacity. The following details were learned: 25X1

Lustzendorf Kaserne:

Western section: still housed a hospital.

Middle section: a signal unit of about 150 men and, in the morning of 1 October, about 900 recruits who had arrived during the second half of September. At 1326 on 1 October, 250 recruits were transferred toward Gera and about 50 to 60 soldiers went to Rudolstadt. 25X1

Eastern section: an AAA unit of approximately 250 men with 8 light AAA guns of about 22 mm. The unit arrived by road during the night of 27 September. The guns were towed by trucks including B 3-mmm and E 6-mmm. The installation also housed a motor transport unit of about 150 men.

Tannenberg Kaserne: a mortar unit which, during the night of 27 September reached the installation by road via the three approach roads, namely Friedrich-Engelsring, Thaelmann Strasse and a road from the railroad station. Six 120-mm mortars were seen on Friedrich Engels Ring. The Kaserne also housed a motor transport unit of about 100 to 120 men and, allegedly, several AT guns.

Flak Kaserne: a heavy AAA unit of about 350 men and motor vehicles                      and a tank unit of about 300 men. Twelve T-34s and a truck of series E 6-58-mm were seen when the unit moved into the installation.

2. The Nachrichten Kaserne (8504) quartered a signal unit of 450 to 500 troops and was fully lit at nightfall. On 4 October, 150 men wearing black-bordered black epaulets with signal insignia engaged in telephone line construction in Weibicht (1 km south of the Kaserne).
3. Prior to 4 October, the Panzer Kaserne (8507) quartered a detail of 30 men. No training activity or EM were noticed. 25X1
4. The army headquarters was allegedly still stationed in Weimar-Mehra (8401 and 8402). There was intensive traffic of officers on 3 October. The four heavy AAA guns previously seen along the border of the airfield were no longer there.
